Brief statement of contents:

1 scrapbook (1941-1948) - This scrapbook of Dr. Catharine Macfarlane's covers the years 1941 to 1948 during which time the merger of the Woman's Medical College with Jefferson Medical College was proposed. A very large portion of this book holds newspaper clippings and letters discussing this proposed merger and the resignations of the dean and members of the Board of Corporators. Other materials in the scrapbook deal with the commission of women physicians in the Army and with Dr. Margaret Craighill's commission as a major, with the discrimination against women physicians, and with Dr. Macfarlane's cancer research. Also included are obituaries of several women physicians such as Dr. Martha Tracy and Dr. Lida S. Cogill.
